

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I am writing this letter in support of the outstanding Dutch musician May Peters. I met Ms. Peters in South Africa, in May 1998, when I was cultural attaché at the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands in Pretoria. Recommended by a renowned impresariat the Embassy invited Ms. Peters to South Africa in the context of a music festival to mark Europe Day (9 May). Ms. Peters is an artist and educator of international stature. In South Africa she managed to perform during the festival with a Big Band of disadvantaged children from the township of Soweto, after rehearsing with them for just one week. She has a thorough understanding of jazz and Caribbean music, and how they relate to one another. She is a highly-acclaimed trombonist, capable of inspiring any audience.

I strongly recommend that Ms. Peters be assisted in whatever way by whatever authorities to be able to share her expertise with students and audiences around the world.

I welcome any additional questions you may have. I can be reached by phone at (+) 1-514-849-4248, # 25 or 26, or by email at MON-CDP@minbuza.nl
